No Cops Charged in Death of Breonna Taylor, Riots Ensue

It is fair to say that White people should learn two things from the ongoing George Floyd saga: 1) every time an “injustice” against a black person is committed by cops, riots will follow and 2) there is zero reason to be take sides in these cases; the cops and the niggers both hate us. And with that, comes the story of Breonna Taylor who I believe was involved with crime, but was nonetheless shot by the cops in her home. And latest news is that no cops have been charged with her murder, unsurprisingly. Riots have taken place after the grand jury decided not to indict and even some local politicians have been arrested. Apparently, even some cops have been shot during the riots.

What I say in both cases (Taylor and 2 cops) is who cares? The less cops and niggers in America, the more power White people will have and the safer we will be.
